Sociologist, Looking at Dogs and People, Finds Restraint Law Logically Controversial

"Emotion about dog ordinances comes from people who are pro-DOG or anti-DOG and this makes discussion irrational. People will say 'Never mind whether this makes sense...that bastard just doesn't like dogs!'"

Marion Levy does like dogs. He owns five of them. All are kept on a lead or fenced at all times, as much for their own protection as for consideration of human beings and other dogs. He lives on Russell Road in the Township but he was invited to cross the line into the Borough the other day to talk about dog control in light of the Borough's proposed dog-control ordinance.

Dr. Levy is a sociologist at Princeton University and chairman of the University's Department of East Asian studies. He probably knows as much about dogs and their behavior (and human behavior in regard to dogs) as anyone around, although he says firmly that he does not in any way propose to tell people what to do with their dogs.

The Borough's proposed ordinance was heard at an exhaustive public hearing earlier this month. Some Council members thought the measure should receive even more exposure, so it will be up for public hearing again at Council's regular July meeting, on Tuesday, July 9, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. The previous hearing lasted two and one-half hours. Nobody is predicting the length of the July hearing.

"A large number of dog-owners aren't terribly responsible in regard to their dogs," is Dr. Levy's observation. "I am rather sympathetic to dog-control because I want my dogs to survive. There are rabbits and deer to charge and before you know it, a dog has run across a street and into the path of a car.

"I have more affections invested in my dogs than most of my colleagues have in their entire careers," Dr. Levy smiles, "but I think you have to be careful of the sensibilities of people, and not let your dogs run loose. I never take my dogs into food places, I never allow them on the lawns of other people because I know this will be offensive. Also, there are people who are pathologically afraid of dogs and I don't want my dogs bothering them.

"Whether a dog is a nuisance depends on the way the dog is handled. I wouldn't have my dogs running loose. For example, feces left on a lawn may have worms and can re-infect another dog. We do not leave feces on our lawn and I clean up after my own dogs. I don't want other dogs using my lawn, and I don't want my dogs on your lawn."

The Levy family has lived on Russell Road for 21 years. When they moved into that Edgerstone area, Dr. Levy says, there were raccoons, foxes and deer in the middle of the road all the time. Now, there is hardly a single vantage lot left on Russell, and wild animals are infrequent.

"People's ideas about dogs were laid down in a period of lower population density, when everyone knew everyone else," he observes. "Today, we have a vastly increased inter-dependency with develop-

High School Renovation Beaten by 300 Votes

The Princeton High $6.25 remodelling referendum was voted down by 317 votes in Tuesday's referendum: 1,628 "no" votes were cast and 1,311 "yes."

In the Borough, there were 571 "no" votes and 361 votes in favor. In the Township, the tally was 1,057 "no" and 950 "yes."

A total of 22.2 per cent of Princeton's 13,257 registered voters turned out for the referendum. In the Borough, 17.5 per cent of the 5,318 voters went to the polls and in the Township, 25.3 per cent of the 7,939 voters.

Absentee ballots kept the "no" total from being any higher than it was. There were 34 "yes" Borough votes, cast by absentee ballots, and 9 "no" votes. In the Township, 69 absentees voted "yes" and 13 voted "no."

"We are disappointed, naturally," said school board president Winthrop Pike, as he announced results in the office of the high school after the polls had closed.

Under state law, another referendum could be held as early as this fall, Mr. Pike said. The law says that no more than two special referendums for the same purpose may be held within a six-month period. However, the board doesn't want to comment now on what it might do, Mr. Pike added.

Why did the referendum go down?

"People told me it was a combination of the bleak economic situation, compounded by the uncertain tax situation in New Jersey," Mr.

Pike commented.

Organized Opposition. Some organized opposition to the referendum developed within the last week, but the board president declined to estimate its effect on the result. A group calling itself the Princeton Taxpayers' Council, led by two former Borough Councilmen, Charles Cornforth and Robert Hendry, distributed flyers urging that "something less than the $6,250,000 be spent."

Signed only by the "Princeton Taxpayers' Council," the flyers are "in clear violation of school election laws," according to Thomas Cook, school board attorney. The law requires that any circular or advertisement on any school election or public question, bear the name and address of those responsible for the publication.

Mr. Cook said that if a citizen cared to file a complaint, the sponsors of the circular could be brought before magistrate's court. Penalties could be a maximum fine of $500 and a maximum jail sentence of one year, he said.

Inflation Factor. Commenting on the flyer, Mr. Pike said the defeated $6,250,000 bond issue had a built-in inflation factor, while the $1,000,000 renovation proposed by the Princeton Taxpayers' Council had no provision for inflation.

In fact, he declared that the $1,000,000 figure is "no longer accurate," and he quoted architect J. Robert Miller as estimating that the $1,000,000 cost could be 50 per cent higher by the time a bond issue in that amount were presented to voters.

Mr. Pike made it clear, however, that the board isn't necessarily considering that plan, or indeed any particular substitute plan at this point.

"We want to analyze the referendum results, district by district, talk to people and see whether we can get better soundings of the way the community feels: are people opposed to doing anything? Was it just bad timing? And so on."

Superintendent Philip E. McPherson echoed Mr. Pike's view: "It wouldn't be good to consider the next step without hearing from citizens and school staff again," he said. "That's a fairly necessary factor in the next action we take."

weapons.

The original Egg Harbour Guard was formed in June, 1775, to protect Jersey Shore inhabitants in the vicinity of Atlantic City from British and Tory raiding parties. The Guard decoyed enemy boats into shallow waters and then bombarded and looted them. Early on the morning of January 3, 1776, these militiamen came to the relief of General Mercer's Brigade at the Battle of Princeton.

Today's Egg Harbour Guard will re-enact some of their predecessors' maneuvers on July 4. The ceremony is sponsored by the Princeton Battle Area Preservation Society.

RENT RULING GIVEN

Clarifies Ordinance. The Borough rent levelling board ruled Monday night in a case which Borough officials say establishes an important precedent in the municipality's complex rent levelling law.

The 1973 ordinance says that if the rent was raised between May 1 and August 1 of 1973 beyond the Consumer Price Index figure, that rent could stay in effect for one year. The next rent increase, however, had to be the CPI figure using the lower May 1 rent as the base.

In Monday's case, tenants Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Soloway had a rent increase between July, 1972, and July, 1973, so that they were paying $174 a month. In July, 1973, their rent was raised to $200. The landlord -- Richard Appleby, represented by the Karl Light real estate firm -- now wants a July '73-July '74 increase based on the $200 figure.

The rent board said "no." It ruled that the increase had to be based on the $174, the amount paid by the tenant on May 1, 1973. The landlord can, however, use the C.P.I. percentage increase from 1972-74 to figure the increase. That C.P.I. figure is 17.9 per cent, which will bring the Soloway apartment rent to $204.65.

FIREWORKS PLANNED

For July 4 in Stadium. Persistent reports of national control of fireworks has no effect in New Jersey, which has had regulations for such displays for many years. Plans are in full gear at Princeton Post 76, American Legion, for its annual program on July 4.

As in the past, the Legion's shows will be staged in Princeton University's Palmer Stadium and will begin at 8 p.m. Should inclement weather postpone the program, the dates of July 6 and 7 have been set aside as alternates.

General Chairman Henry J. Frank announced that the gates will open at 8 to the musical sound of the Dusty Rivers' Rock Band. The group will entertain until the skies form the ideal dark silhouette for a setting for the fireworks.

Ample parking space will be provided around Palmer Stadium. Admission for adults will be $2.50 each and $1 for children.

MILITIA CALLED BACK
To Princeton Battlefield. The crack of musket fire will once again echo across the grounds of the Battle of Princeton next Thursday. The volleys will be part of a ceremony and demonstration marking Independence Day and also commemorating the role played by militiamen in the American Revolution and the Battle of Princeton.

Participating in the 11 a.m. program will be a group of about 15 Mercer County history buffs known as the Egg Harbour Guard and Kemble Widmer, the state geologist and expert on the American Revolution. Mr. Widmer will begin the activities with a short talk on the militia, comprised of men who lived at home, were not part of the regular army, but who could be called into action when needed.

Members of the Egg Harbour Guard, each of whom will wear a slightly different uniform based on a particular militia, will explain their uniforms and equipment. The Guard, which is being featured on the cover of the July issue of "Trenton" magazine, will run through the manual of arms and other drills, and then fire three rounds of musket fire to mark the occasion.

Their muskets are hand-made to Revolutionary War specifications. The Egg Harbour Guard secured a special ordinance from the Township permitting the firing of blanks from the

Dogs and People

ment living, and our degrees of freedom are very much lower. The possibility of exacerbating your neighbors is significantly greater.

"Although," he adds, "we are singularly blessed in Princeton with the uncluttered life
we can lead here."

Dr. and Mrs. Levy own very large dogs, and many people at the hearing said it was unfair to a dog, especially a large one, to keep the dog confined or leashed.

"Yes, dogs need exercise," Dr. Levy says, "but it's not true that a dog will get exercise in a healthy way just by being allowed to run free. My personal opinion is that if you are exercised about this, then you should exercise your dog!"

A Mop Top. The Levy dogs are, with one active exception, large. King of the quintet is unquestionably Ch. Szentivani Ingo, known as "Duna," a splendid Komondor, or Hungarian sheepdog now
seven years old and knighted in 1972 as Number Eight dog for all breeds in the entire United States. People always say that Duna looks exactly like a mop and although Dr.
Levy is resigned to this as a hopeless cliché, it is nevertheless true that Duna looks exactly like a mop.

Duna's mate, Kutya (Ch.
Borsodi Gangos) is also in residence on Russell Road. So is a Bouvier de Flandres and an airdale, both 12 years old-and another, smaller Hungarian sheepdog of the breed known as a Puli.

All except the Puli have been Obedience-Trained. It was suggested in Borough Hall that the ordinance be changed so that a dog who had been obedience-trained wouldn't have to be on a leash.
"I think anyone's a fool not to have a dog obedience-trained: I wouldn't have a dog otherwise! But obedience-training isn't the only thing," Dr. Levy says.

The Ground Rules. Obedience training doesn't mean the dog can be left alone without anyone in command, he points out. It also depends on who the dog is with.

Perhaps one member of the family can control the dog, others cannot. And the dog and owner BOTH must be fully trained.

"If you watch a fine teacher with a dog, it's almost like watching ballet, but if you watched that dog with its owner, you might not even know it had been trained."

No easy answers here, Dr.
Levy is sure. But he thinks that a lead-law might be adjusted so that, if a person were qualified to handle the dog, the lead might not be required.

"But this increases the level of responsibility placed on the person," he warns. "If you do it that way, perhaps there should be stiff penalties for people who can't deliver under the circumstances."

Also, obedience training may not work if you're not paying attention. Suppose you're talking with someone on a street corner, and your terrier sees a squirrel.

Very few dogs, in Dr. Levy's experience, will leave the squirrel and return to their master. He's found that if a dog off a lead gets two or three jumps ahead, it's hard to get him back. And even the most skillful dog handlers can slip.

A sign on Dr. Levy's office door warns "Beware of the Dog." Knock, and a bark comes from the other side to freeze the tongue in your mouth. "It's all right, Duna;
it's a friend," says Dr. Levy's voice, and not only does the bark cease, the dog pays no attention at all to the entering visitor. "It's all right, Duna; it's a friend," is a constant and totally effective control formula.

At the dog law hearing, people who own dogs for protection said they were fearful that a leash-law would unduly restrain a watchdog.
Duna, always leashed or fenced, is a watchdog of awesome endowment.

In Hungary, Komondorok are trained to protect sheep from wolves and Duna tends to regard almost anything as a wolf, even a low-flying helicopter, or, on one memorable occasion, the dinky, which he charged. He lives within the scant half-acre fenced yard of the Levy property, visible and audible to anyone trying to enter. He is not left outside when the Levys are away, incidentally, because barking might bother
the neighbors.

Knowledge Essential. Know your dog, Dr. Levy advises.
Learn the temperament of your breed. You can make more accurate predictions about a pure-bred dog than about an "American Domestic," but even with a mixed-breed, you can learn the characteristics of your individual dog.

In final observation on dog control, Dr. Levy observes the real distinction "between people who like dogs, and people who don't." He also knows there are people with
"pathological fear."

"Despite such people, I have a right to walk my dog, but it is my special responsibility always to have my dog under control."

VANDALS STRIKE AGAIN

At John Witherspoon School. John Witherspoon School—a more suitable name would be Fort Witherspoon, since it has been under repeated attack by vandals—was hit twice again last week.

The most recent damage was discovered at 7:30 Tuesday morning. A library door on the west side was used to gain entry. Chief Frederick Porter said.

Inside, vandals broke into a coke machine and doused soda over a table. A portable hand torch, which the police recovered, was used to burn a door to gain entrance to the lounge; a door to the auditorium was also burned. One entire hallway was sprayed with powder fire extinguishers. Ptl. David Wilbur investigated.

Between Thursday and Friday, vandals also entered the school—again through the library. White paint from an aerosol can was sprayed on the door. Chief Porter said that articles in the library were distributed and some desks rifled.

Taken, he said, were a First National bank book and three U.S. Saving Bonds ($75 each), the property of William and Anne Toole, 91 Moore Street. Two room keys were also stolen.

"Our investigation reveals that whoever entered the school had a key to the library exit door," commented Chief Porter, who said that the vandals left by the same door. Sgt. Michael Kopliner and Det. Frank Boccanfuso investigated.

Police said that so many keys for the John Witherspoon School had been made and lost that the security situation there was "haphazard."

USE VARIANCE SOUGHT

By Jewish Center. The Regional Planning Board will hear a request Tuesday night from the Jewish Center of Princeton that it be permitted to use the old Tax Institute of America building for some of the activities currently conducted in the Center's overcrowded building.

The Jewish Center purchased the Tax Institute building, located next door to the Center at 457 Nassau Street, last December after the Tax Institute moved out of Princeton. "We want to expand some of our present activities," said Mrs. Roslyn Staras, president of the Jewish Center congregation.

"Our present building is short on facilities for small groups, and the books are overflowing in the small library," she said. "The other building is a nicer place for small meetings of the library and drop-in center."

The Jewish Center's congregation now numbers about 370 members. The Center previously acquired a second parking lot behind the Tax Institute building and the right-of-way for a driveway across the back property. "We've been neighbors for years," said Mrs. Staras. "We don't intend to change our activities. We just want to spill over into additional space."

4 BUYERS INTERESTED

In Princessville Inn. The Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission has announced that four prospective purchasers have expressed an interest in buying and preserving the historic Princessville Inn in Lawrence Township.

James M. Sears, chairman of the Commission, said that inquiries have been made as a result of news reports on the Commission's efforts to preserve the historical site, also known as the "Red Tavern Inn," which is located on the Princeton Pike halfway between Harvey's Corner and Princeton.

"We were indeed pleased to receive these inquiries," said Mr. Sears. "We recently arranged a special meeting with the owners of the property, the Bet-Max Corporation, Councilman Joseph Datto Pazzo of Lawrence Township and members of the Commission to make plans to bring the prospective buyers and the property owners together."

The Bet-Max Corporation owns the inn and about 17 acres. Betty Dean, one of the owners, said that it may be possible to sell the inn and a smaller parcel of land. Mr. Sears said that anyone else interested in purchasing the inn could contact the Commission, 989-8000 Ext. 293, or Mrs. Dean, 882-5881.

CHARTER UNIT REPORTS

Elected Executive Proposed. The Mercer County Charter Study Commission has recommended the elected county executive plan as the new form of government for Mercer County.

The nine-member Study Commission chose the county executive option at a public meeting Thursday, June 20, by a vote of 8 to 1. The Commission also voted, 7 to 2, for no change in the present method of at-large elections where Freeholders must run county-wide. In an unanimous vote the Commission also decided to retain the present size of the seven-member freeholder board.

Mrs. Nancy H. Schluter, who is vice-chairman of the Commission, said she preferred the county manager optional plan, but voted to support the majority position. Mrs. Catherine L. McGrath voted for the manager plan, citing the high degree of professionalism the manger would bring to the job.

Both Mrs. Schluter and Mrs. McGrath voted against the at-large election of freeholders and indicated a strong preference for electing freeholders from a combination of districts and at-large.

The Commission will issue its final report encompassing these recommendations by August 6. The recommended new form of county government then will be placed on the November 5 general election ballot in the form of a referendum for consideration by the voters of Mercer County.

According to Mr. Meara, the majority chose the elected executive plan because it would give Mercer County highly visible government with political accountability to the people. The Freeholder Board, under the county executive plan, will acquire an increased legislative role. The county executive would be responsible to the people for the general administration of county government.

SEAT FILLED—FINALLY
In West Windsor. Prolonged bickering and legal maneuvering over the appointment to fill the vacated seat of Democrat Peter Flatow on the West Windsor Township Committee finally came to an end Monday night. The committee voted unanimously to appoint Democrat James F. Cahill.

Mr. Cahill, of 28 Van Wyck Drive, has served on the Township Board of Health for the past year and is a member of the site plan review committee and the advisory committee of the Township Planning Board.

He was sworn in immediately after his appointment and will serve until the end of this year. Mr. Flatow's term will expire at the end of 1975, and a permanent replacement will be chosen by the voters in November. Republican Myles T. Redmond has already announced his candidacy for the seat.

The squabbling began when Mr. Flatow announced that he was being transferred out of this area and would resign his seat. The Republicans agreed that a Democrat should be chosen to replace Mr. Flatow, so that the political alignment reflecting the voters' opinions would remain constant.

The Republicans did not agree, however, that the Democrat chosen should be Grace Singer, chairman of the Township Board of Health. "She was already an announced candidate for Committee and we didn't feel the appointment should build any candidate up," said one Republican. The vote was 2-2, split along partisan lines, with Mr. Flatow abstaining.

Judge's Ruling. Then Democrats introduced the name of A. Spencer Bruno. Again the vote was 2-2. "We thought he was being pushed down our throats," said the Republican. "They didn't present any qualifications for him." This time Mr. Flatow did vote, breaking the tie in favor of Mr. Bruno.

On June 1, the day Mr. Bruno was supposed to be sworn in, Republican and Democratic attorneys for the Township met at the home of New Jersey Superior Court Justice Samuel D. Lenox Jr. Republicans sought and obtained a temporary injunction against the seating of Mr. Bruno.

On June 14, Judge Lenox declared Mr. Bruno's appointment illegal, ruling that Mr. Flatow could not legally vote for his own successor. Democratic Mayor William A. Stuart then announced that he would submit again the names of Mrs. Singer and Mr. Bruno.

But by the time of Monday's meeting he had apparently changed his mind. Mr. Cahill's name was included on a list of candidates the Republicans indicated they would approve.

Mr. Cahill is manager of production control for Princeton Laboratories and is active in the Police Athletic League. He is married and has three children.

HARDWARE CAPER

Two Are Caught. A 16-year old Princeton juvenile, an employee in Urken's Supply Company, a hardware store at 27 Witherspoon Street, and an 18-year old Beach Haven youth have been caught by police, who said the employee had been systematically stealing from the store.

Following a court hearing last week, Michael J. Phelan of the shore community was referred to a Mercer County grand jury for further action. He has been charged with possession of stolen property. The juvenile, charged with larceny and possession of stolen property, has been released to his parents, pending action by juvenile authorities.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part of all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick, and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15c.

Marching Orders

A little rain
Goes a long, long way
Wish it would go Far, far away

Actually, June is just about normal in rainfall. What makes it seem more is the persistence with which cloudy skies, and frequent drizzle, have dominated the weather picture for the past fortnight.

Unsettled conditions will continue until Friday, the Man reports, but a clearing trend is due then and a warm, pleasant weekend is included in the long-range forecast. It will be welcome if it materializes—three of the last four have been wet at least half the time.

ding action by juvenile authorities.

The pair were arrested at 3:50 last Wednesday morning by Ptl. Ronald Holiday and Ptl. Victor Fasanella, who observed them putting articles in the trunk of their car. The articles, including two electric drills, a belt sander, a broiler oven and sportsman's lantern, were identified as coming from Urken's.

Captain Theodore Lewis said that the employee had hidden the loot on the roof of Urken's until he and his companion could dispose of it. The articles were valued at $359.74.

Police here said that other stolen property has been recovered in Phelan's home, some of it allegedly identified as coming from Urken's.

2 TEENAGERS CHARGED

In Car Theft. Two teenagers have been charged with possession of stolen property by Borough police after they were arrested in a stolen car.

David McNamara, 19, 55 Marion Road East, and Edward G. Fitzell, 18, of Jamesburg, have been released in $250 bail each, pending their appearance in Borough Court July 3.

The two were stopped by Ptl. Victor Fasanella and Ptl. Ronald Holiday for spinning the wheels of a Mustang on Vandeventer Avenue at 2:14 Thursday morning. When they were unable to produce a registration for the car, a police look-up revealed the owner as Richard A. Dormer, 103 Washington Road, West Windsor. He confirmed that the car had been stolen, police said.

Rocky Hill Woman, Missing for 2 Weeks, Found Dead in Woods

Mrs. Bertha Blevins, the 74-year-old Rocky Hill woman who was reported missing from her apartment on Tuesday, June 11, apparently walked aimlessly through the woods, fields, towpaths and even public highways of Rocky Hill for at least three days before she died a natural death caused by exposure.

On at least one occasion she was spotted - on Route 518 near Canal Road - by a passing motorist, who was unaware that Mrs. Blevins was in distress, and continued driving. How many more persons may have spotted her before she died is unknown. What is known is that her presence in the area eluded dozens of volunteer searchers and divers, State Police and bloodhounds, and even a helicopter observation team.

Mrs. Gertrude Tennyson of Kingston, the woman who passed her on the morning of Friday, June 14, did not know a woman was missing in Rocky Hill until the next Wednesday, June 19, when she read it in the newspaper. She immediately notified State Police Detective Robert Rhatican and the next morning took him to the exact location where she had seen Mrs. Blevins.

"I found her body after about 45 minutes," said Detective Rhatican. "She was in the woods about 30 yards east of Canal Road at the intersection of Route 518. It looked as if she just lay down and fell asleep. Her arms were very naturally by her side."

Mrs. Tennyson said: "All my life I'll be thinking of this. Here was a stranger in need of help and I didn't realize it. I just wished I had stopped. This will be on my conscience all my life."

'Acted Befuddled.' Mrs. Tennyson and her son Brian, 22, were returning from a trip to the supermarket and were driving east on Route 518 toward Kingston when they spotted the woman who matched Mrs. Blevin's description.

"She acted befuddled," said Mrs. Tennyson. "She was acting not right - I can't explain it. I had a hunch that something might be wrong and I suggested to Brian that we stop. He said, 'Mother, you can't stop everytime you see a stranger on the road. Probably she's been fishing by the canal and is looking for a place to go to the bathroom. You'll just embarrass her.'"

As the Tennyson car passed by, Mrs. Tennyson glanced in her rear view mirror as the woman climbed over the guard rail on the quarry side of Route 518 and appeared to head into the woods. Mrs. Tennyson said the woman gave no sign of needing any assistance.

"She didn't look like a woman who had been walking around in the woods for three days," said Mrs. Tennyson. "Her clothes weren't tattered or messed up." Mrs. Tennyson recalled that the woman was wearing a plaid coat. Mrs. Blevin's daughter, Mrs. Albert Huber of Franklin Park, had guessed that her mother might be wearing such a coat.

Lost in Labyrinth. With her daughter's wedding scheduled the next day, and guests arriving at her house, Mrs. Tennyson forgot about the elderly woman on the side of the road. The next Wednesday her son Keith, 23, was reading a newspaper account of the search for Mrs. Blevins and asked his mother if she might know her.

"He only asked because he knew I was born in Rocky Hill and he thought I might know her," said Mrs. Tennyson. "I immediately recalled the woman from Friday and called the police."

Mrs. Blevin's body was taken to Somerset Hospital in Somerville, where an autopsy was performed. Detective Rhatican said he was "amazed" that the woman could have spent that much time in the woods. "One explanation is that those woods are heavy but they are also very accessible by a lot of paths as well as by the canal tow path," he said.

Mrs. Blevins, who suffered several strokes in recent years, may simply have become lost in that labyrinth. Her path may have crisscrossed the searcher's paths at dozens of different points, but never at the same time.

Apartment Locked. The detective said it would have been impossible for her to return to her apartment at 2 Brunswick Park Avenue. It was locked after she was reported missing and Mrs. Blevins left the house without her pocketbook and the key.

Born in Germany, Mrs. Blevins came to the United States in 1930 and settled in New York. She moved to this area about two years ago to live with her daughter in Franklin Park, but moved to her own apartment a year ago.

Other survivors are her husband, Judson Blevins of Trenton, from whom she was separated; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in East Brunswick.

MAN DROWNS IN POOL

Arthur Lipkin Dies. A 67-year-old retired symphony conductor was found dead last week in a private swimming pool in Princeton.

The body of Arthur B. Lipkin, 13 Campbellton Circle, was discovered last Tuesday evening at 10:23 in nine feet of water of a pool at the home of a friend, Mrs. Charles P. Healy, 115 Brookstone Drive. An autopsy performed the next day by Mercer County Pathologist Dr. David Fluck at Princeton Medical Center attributed death to accidental drowning.

Mr. Lipkin's body was first discovered by another couple who live at the Healy home who had seen him at 6:05 before leaving for a softball game in Plainsboro. When they returned and saw his car still there, they felt something was amiss. Seeing the body, they called Borough police. It was recovered by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

The victim's wife and daughter were at the family's new condominium in Chestnut Hill, Pa., when they learned of the tragedy.

A distinguished musician widely known in music circles, Mr. Lipkin had directed symphonies in Birmingham, Ala. and Portland, Me. He was, for many years, first violinist of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Born in London, Mr. Lipkin had moved to Princeton more than five years ago and was actively interested in musical activities in this area. He was an advocate of more concert programs for children.

As a guest conductor, he directed orchestras throughout the United States and in London, Oslo and Japan. In 1962 under government auspices, he traveled as a musical goodwill ambassador to Italy, Spain, India, Thailand and the Far East, and again in 1968 to Morocco and other countries. In this country he had also been conductor of the Main Line and Germantown symphonies in Pennsylvania.

The Commission also reports that very few riders get on in the University area, or on Nassau Street. Residents of Lawrence Apartments went to the public hearings to ask for bus service, but the number of Lawrence riders is almost nil, except for a few who go to the Shopping Center. From Nassau Street, a few riders go to Riverside-Littlebrook, and even fewer go to the Shopping Center.

The Commission points out that many residents of the Riverside area have protested about the buses.

"People who scream the loudest for service don't use it, and people who say we don't need the buses, live in areas where use is highest," observes Priscilla Weck, Commission member.

HOME ENTERED

Silver Pattern Taken. A 12-place sterling silver service with gold weaving and a cake knife in the same pattern valued at $1200 have been stolen from the home of Harold B. Shamy, 42 Cuyler Road.

Police report that the theft was discovered by the owners last week when they returned home from vacation. Also taken was a $100 tape recorder.

Police said that they believe one of three doors to the house had possibly been unlocked. An audible alarm had been turned off by the intruder. Ptl. Mario Musso investigated.

$100 TV Set Taken. Borough police report the theft of a $400 portable color TV set from the second floor residence of Raymond Hunt, 301 Nassau Street. A kitchen window was used to get inside.

Also taken were a hi-fi turntable worth $300, two speakers and two LP records valued at $4.79 each. Det. Timothy Hoizing and Sgt. Ralph Proaccino investigated.

MIXED BAG GRABBED

In thefts. The list of items stolen last week includes two calculators and a clock—but the most unusual target has to be a box of meter parts and tools taken from Borough meter man John Jackson.

According to police, Jackson had placed a box of assorted meter parts and tools on the sidewalk in front of 35 William Street, from where it was stolen between 9:15 and 9:30 Thursday morning. The contents were valued at $87.

The two calculators, valued at $389 and $245 each, complete with case, cord and booklet, were taken during a 15-minute period from Room 430 at the Engineering Quadrangle. Police said that the room was unoccupied at the time.

Viking Furniture owner Marty Bratman told police that a Howard Miller clock valued at $300 was removed from a wall last Wednesday evening between 7:45 and 8:40 while a sale was in progress.

Samuel D. Allen III, Princeton Junction, lost a $40 8-track stereo from his car while it was parked last week in the YMCA lot. The theft took place between 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

A leather pocketbook containing $100 was stolen between 3:30 and 4:10 Monday afternoon from an unlocked VW Camper while it was parked in the Marquand Park area. Police identified the victim as Miss Diana Rake of Titusville.

More Plant Thefts. Mrs. Edward Glass, 80 Linden Lane, reported the theft last week of an asparagus fern plant ($5), a ceramic wind chime ($10) and another plant ($2) from her front porch around 12:45 in the morning.

Mrs. Betsy Thorsen, 21 Pine Street, listed the theft of a Victorian urn containing a geranium plant recovered the next afternoon in front of 44 Pine.

TWO WOMEN ARRESTED

Charged with Shoplifting. Cynthia A. Martin, Route 27, Little Rocky Hill, was arrested Friday afternoon on Witherspoon Street by Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt for shoplifting.

Police said that she had in her possession a blue denim hat valued at $6.99 which she had allegedly shoplifted from Woolworth's on Nassau Street. She was later released with a complaint summons, pending her appearance in Borough court next Wednesday.

A 16-year-old Hightstown woman—married, but in the eyes of the law, still a juvenile—was charged with shoplifting by Township police Friday after she allegedly took a $7 pair of shorts from Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

She was detected by one of the store's security officers, Mrs. Constance Ware, who, police said, retained possession of the suspect's pocketbook after she managed to escape. She was later arrested by Det. Anthony Pinelli in her car.

The suspect was charged with shoplifting and driving without a license. She was later released to her husband and father.

$200,000 RECEIVED

In Foundation Grants. The Kresge Foundation, of Troy, Michigan, has announced two grants to the Princeton community: $100,000 to Princeton University for renovation and reallocation of space for the Department of Biology; and $100,000 to Westminster Choir College for the construction of a new student center and dining commons.

The Kresge Foundation, one of the largest in the United States in size of assets and appropriations, was created solely through the gifts of the late Sebastian S. Kresge, founder of the S. S. Kresge Company. The S. S. Kresge Company and the Kresge Foundation are not related in any way except that both had the same founder.

QUALITY ENGINEER: Pennington resident Larry L. Smith served as a quality engineering representative in the development of a new communications satellite launched from Cape Canaveral. A model of the Applications Technology Satellite (ATS) is in the background.

PENNINGTON MAN CITED

For Space Effort. Larry L. Smith, of 117 Weldon Way, Pennington, has played a key role in the success of the nation's latest communications spacecraft. This spacecraft is the sixth Applications Technology Satellite (ATS-6), which was recently launched by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration from Cape Canaveral.

ATS-6 will be used for the next several years to test a variety of new space communications concepts requiring the use of a spacecraft in geosynchronous orbit. These concepts include direct broadcast of health and education television programs to small and simple ground receiving units in remote regions over a large geographic area; aeronautical and maritime communications, position-location and traffic control techniques; and spacecraft tracking and data relay experiments.

Mr. Smith is quality engineering representative for the ATS-6 Attitude Control Subsystem, a post in which he helped insure that quality and engineering goals were met by Honeywell, the control system contractor.

Born in Dodge City, Kansas, Mr. Smith received his B.S. in industrial engineering from Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas, in 1958 and has done graduate work at New Mexico State University and George Washington University. He is married to the former Mary J. Dunnington of Clearwater, Florida. They have three children: Eric, 6; Cynthia, 3; and Brian, 1.

"TAKE THE SHUTTLE!"

Urges Chamber. About 40 manager-owners of Princeton business enterprises sat around Monday morning talking about the new shuttle and suggesting ways it could be better. The Chamber of Commerce, convenor of the meeting, has scheduled a similar gathering for Tuesday, July 9 at 9:30 a.m. in Borough Hall.

A nagging shuttle problem is the non-9-to-5 worker. A shuttle operating, as this one does, from 7:30 to 9 and from 4:30 to 6, isn't much good for the part-time employee, the late worker or somebody who has to use a car off and on all day.

Several suggestions came out at Monday's meeting; ex-

PARKS HEAD PICKETED

By Amphitheater Foes. About 40 residents of West Windsor and Hamilton townships who are opposed to the Historical Drama Association's proposed amphitheater in the Mercer County Park braved heavy rains Sunday afternoon to picket for two hours at the homes of Richard J. Coffee and James Sayen, chairman and vice-chairman of the Mercer County Park Commission.

In a press release issued by the West Windsor Community Association, the protesters said they attempted to deliver a statement of objections to Mr. Coffee but that he refused to accept it. Mr. Sayen, according to the statement, "talked with the Mercer County citizens and patiently listened to petitions for relief."

The president of the West Windsor Community Association, Tom Boyer, expressed his desire to keep Mercer County Park a recreational area for Mercer County residents. Phillip Malloy urged Park Commission meetings for public discussion.

Myles Redmond, Republican candidate for Township Committee, stated that "the environmental impact of the amphitheater, closing of roads and the resulting loss of park facilities for county citizens works a hardship on those whose taxes support the recreational area."

Allen McQuarrie, democratic candidate for Township Committee, assailed the lack of awareness demonstrated by the Park Commission of previous bipartisan protests against the amphitheater and its insensitivity to other pressures likely to worsen West Windsor's already congested areas at Princeton Junction and Penn Station.

THE BEAT GOES ON

In Mailbox Vandalism. Vandals placed an M-80 "cherry bomb" in the mailbox of Chi-Lung Kang, 301 Gallup Road, last week and the $15 box burst into four pieces in the resultant explosion.

Police said that Mr. Kang's son heard the explosion about 9:15 Friday night. Police added that they had received a report that two boys in the neighborhood had seen someone blow up another mailbox in the area a few days earlier. Ptl. William R. Potts investigated.

CONTINUING FUNDS

For "Corner House." "Corner House," funded by the National Institute of Mental Health to provide counseling services to people with drug problems, will be funded for a second year. In a time when much Federal funding for drug programs is being drastically reduced, Corner House, a joint agency of Princeton Township and Borough, will receive the same level of funding—$79,000.

The nationwide trend is away from heroin addiction and toward an increase in poly-drug use, and many programs are being greatly reduced or dismantled, according to Nancy White, Corner House director. Programs like Corner House, with a mental health approach, and a staff of people with professional credentials, are being looked upon favorably by the Federal agency. The emphasis is on treating drug abuse in relation to other problems the individual has.

The Corner House program serves many people who are not involved with drugs. In the 22 months of its operation, more than five hundred people have requested services. Most clients are in the teens or twenties, but the agency has no set age limits. Some are family members who are attempting to develop a healthier relationship with son or daughter.

"It has been particularly gratifying," says Mrs. White, "that many of the young people come to us on their own initiative, and then refer their friends. We feel we have gained the trust of adolescents and young adults in the community and that is why Corner House is so busy."

The agency serves Princeton and the surrounding communities. Part of the program is a component of the Mercer Regional Drug Treatment Program. Corner House is located at 273 Witherspoon Street in a building provided by the Princeton Medical Center.

CAMP: Blairstown, the University's camp-education center, may look like this model some day. Architect Harrison Fraker explains the layout to a group of Riverside School children whose GRS Leather Company has just donated $275 in scholarship money so city kids can spend summertime at Blairstown. GRS grossed around $900 by making and selling leather products, used a $600 profit to finance the Riverside class at Blairstown, and decided to donate the rest for scholarships. Nearest Professor Fraker is Gretchen Good, then Abby Allen, Barbie Falcone and John Perkins.

POCKETBOOK SLIDES... And Car Strikes Trees. A Princeton driver suffered bruises of the nose, forehead and knees Saturday after her station wagon jumped the curb and struck two trees as she reached for a purse that had fallen off the seat. Mrs. Lucille M. Lowrance, 42, Southern Way, was ticketed by Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm for careless driving. She refused medical aid after the mishap, which caused extensive front end damage to her car, blew out both tires and damaged the windshield. Police said Mrs. Lowrance was turning a corner on Prospect Avenue when she lost control near Princeton Avenue. Her car jumped the curb, struck a tree, continued on for 48 feet and struck another tree before coming to rest.

Woodbury driver received a severe laceration above the eye when the brakes of his van truck failed last week and he swerved to avoid cars in front of him. Thomas V. Chiomento, 53, was taken by the First Aid Squad to Princeton Medical Center where he received 11 sutures. He was traveling on Washington Road approaching Nassau Street last Wednesday afternoon when his brakes failed. He swerved his truck, which jumped the curb and struck a 19-inch high stone wall owned by Princeton University. Momentum carried the truck another 70 feet off the roadway; it struck a large tree and a traffic light before coming to rest five feet from Nassau Street. Ptl. William Hunter tried the brakes, found them to be defective, and there were no charges. The truck had to be towed away.

YOUTH IS CHARGED For Annoying Calls. Robin D. Peters, 18, 44 Dodds Lane, has been charged by Borough police with making annoying telephone calls. He was arrested at Borough police headquarters by Det. Anthony Ranfone and later released after being issued a complaint summons. Police said that he had allegedly been making annoying calls to an Allison Road resident. A telephone tap led to his detection.

Here's how Sue Kellerman cleans her SYLVAN POOL.

As you can see, Sue doesn't have to knock herself out. That's because while she's enjoying herself, Sue's exclusive Sylvan Automatic Cleaning and Purifying System is hard at work.

And the Automatic Cleaning and Purifying System makes midnight diving just as easy as afternoon floating. Because unlike other filtering systems, ours cleans and purifies automatically 24 hours a day. So all the time you would ordinarily spend on maintenance can be put to far better use—swimming.

We've been designing pools exactly the way people want them for 27 years. And we've discovered many ways to build them that allow you to spend more time in them. Our miracle pool finish PERMALON is one of them. It will keep your pool beautiful, free of stains and algae, and it requires little yearly maintenance.

To help keep you swimming, Sylvan has built the finest Authorized Service Organization in the business. They're always there with the supplies, and always in direct touch with you. A pool is a lifetime investment. You can rest assured that's the way we'll build it.

With our help, you can have a pool you'll want to stay in all the time. With all our exclusive engineering advances, you'll be able to do just that.

The more you find out about pools, the more you'll find that nobody knows more about your needs than Sylvan.

Dirt Path More Fun!
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is a letter I sent to Township Mayor Jay Bleiman.

I have written this letter to protest about the things they have done to the little stream and the path on Jefferson Road between Henry and Valley Road. The path which used to be a good dirt path is now made of asphalt. It was more fun as a dirt path. And in the stream they put sewer pipes and filled up a place in the stream making it like a bridge. Now it is no fun to go across.

I guess nothing can be done about it now but I think no more modernizations should be done. My friends and I used to go down there and play but now it begins to look like a neat park instead of something kids can play around. If you have any good explanations for this please write back and tell me this. My friends feel the same way I do.

A future voter,
ANN ALMGREN
140 Jefferson Road

Park—Not Housing.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter sent to Mayor and Council, the Borough Zoning Board, the Planning Board and interested environmental groups:

The Stony Brook Garden Club wishes to express its approval of making the old quarry site at the end of Spruce Street into a recreational area instead of having it become a 32-unit apartment complex. The three plus acres so strategically located present a rare opportunity for a park-playground easily accessible to the Lloyd Terrace residents and readily available to the east end population of Princeton. The Master Plan took this into consideration when it designated the area for this purpose.

It is self-evident that Marquand Park fills a real need for recreational space in spite of being inconveniently situated for many townspeople. Considering Princeton's rate of growth, another equal area is needed in the eastern part of town which could be easily reached on foot. Open space is hard to come by which makes it all the more important to preserve this area for the use of all.

We urge your favorable consideration of the matter.

Buyer's Strike Threatened.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I work in Princeton and leave at 4 daily, which makes it impossible for me to take the shuttle bus.

You are discriminating against people who work in Princeton, by making it very inconvenient for them. Also, consider the fact that many employees have families; in case of an emergency call, a car is needed immediately.

Because you are so hard on employees in Princeton, I am tempted to stop all purchases that I normally make here. Instead of removing the ten-hour meters, they should have been increased!

VICKI LONDON
114 Henderson Rd.
South Brunswick, N.J.

Why Make It Difficult?
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I can't believe this town! Instead of increasing parking meters (10 hour) for employees, you take most of them away. I work in Princeton, but can't use the shuttle bus because I have erratic hours. Why do you want to make it so difficult for employees?

By making it inconvenient to work in Princeton, you may find employees will begin to look elsewhere for work.

Why is this being done? I have decided that if the town of Princeton won't even let me park where I work, I will not spend any of my paycheck here from now on.

Historical Drama Opposed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
We would like to join those who have made known their opposition to the historical drama production proposed for Mercer County Central Park by the New Jersey Historical Drama Association. The dramatization of Washington's crossing of the Delaware and the battles of Trenton and Princeton, written by Arthur Lithgow and with music by Morton Lewin, may be admirable in itself, but we question the manner of its presentation.

We do not wish to see West Windsor endure the traffic congestion and the proliferation of tawdry commercial structures which would accompany a production specifically designed to attract tourists. A county park, intended for the use of county residents, is certainly not suitable for an enterprise of this sort.

The drama is being promoted as a part of the Bicentennial celebration of 1976. However, the National Bicentennial Commission is very wisely following a policy of encouraging strictly local celebrations throughout the country, rather than events which would attract people from broad geographical areas.

The world is facing a serious, long-term energy shortage, the dimensions of which are just beginning to be recognized by the public at large. For any governmental body to give its blessing to a production which depends, for its success, on luring large numbers of people to drive great distances would be, in our view, not only unwise but immoral.

We would like very much to see this drama presented as a part of the Bicentennial, but on a strictly local scale and over a limited period of time. To us the ideal solution would be to erect temporary stands at Battlefield Park in Princeton and present it there in the summer of 1976 only. Special buses could be provided to transport Mercer County residents to the site. What time and place could be more appropriate than the very spot at which the climactic battle took place two hundred years before?

TED and MARY PECK

West Windsor Township

Amphitheatre Opposed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The West Windsor Bicentennial Committee joins other interested residents of West Windsor in opposing the proposed amphitheater in Mercer County Central Park.

We agree with the National Bicentennial Commission's suggestion that bicentennial celebrations be conducted on the local level for residents of each community. We have many events planned for 1976 which we feel will help draw the community together in celebration.

We have investigated the New Jersey Historical Drama Association proposals and while we do not oppose a pageant per se we do oppose a permanent pageant and one that requires a 2,500 seat amphitheater and 1,000 space parking lot.

In today's world of constant crisis and energy shortage, why must groups such as the N.J. Historical Drama Association plan events that require new construction and which depend upon travel from distant areas to insure economic survival?

We would support an historical pageant presented during the summer of 1976 and held at a site that is already

SEVEN BANKERS NAMED

By State Association. Four officials from the Princeton Bank & Trust Company and three from the First National Bank have been named to working committees of the New Jersey Bankers Association for 1974-75. Representing Princeton Bank & Trust are C. Barnwell Straut, who will work in the legislation and taxation committees; Joseph F. Catelli, bank operations and management; Cornelius Arnett, data processing; and Mrs. Pauline DiGiovacchino, American Institute of Banking.

From the First National Bank are Ralph H. Mather, serving on the executive, convention and Federal Reserve nominating advisory committees; John F. Hoff, Federal Reserve relations; and H. Lester Barlow, agriculture.

A total of 24 committees and subcommittees will develop and carry out the Bankers Association program for its 242 member banks in the coming year. The organization is headquartered at 499 Harrison Street North LENHART NAMED To Handle Prince Account. Robert L. McClintick, President of Prince Manufacturing, Inc., Princeton, has announced the appointment of Lenhart Advertising, as advertising and sales promotion agency for the firm.

The company manufactures the unique Prince tennis ball serving machine, which provides the aspiring tennis player with an automatic partner which serves tennis balls in a variety of patterns, all designed to improve the playing abilities of the users.

One of the new areas in which these machines are performing successfully is in the equivalent of what began years ago as the golf driving range. Now, in many parts of the country, entrepreneurs are using Prince machines in botteries, available to the general public as tennis practice ranges.

Prince Manufacturing, Inc. is unique in that it is one of the few "industries" in the Princeton area. Most other Princeton firms are involved in some form of research.

The Prince firm was formed several years ago to produce the market the tennis machine designs of Robert McClure, who is now Vice Chairman of the Board of the firm. Mr. McClure is a long time tennis enthusiast, having served the American Lawn Tennis Association in a variety of ways.

TALK MORE, PAY LESS

Telephone Economies Listed. The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has published a pamphlet detailing 41 ways in which telephone users not only can save money, but time and worry as well. The methods are listed separately under the headings Money Savers, Worry Savers and Time Savers.

The pamphlet is being offered free at all telephone business offices or can be obtained by writing to Customer Service, Room 1700, 540 Broad Street, Newark, 07101. A condensed version listing 28 methods to save money, time and worry also has been printed in all telephone directories being distributed this year.

In the Money Savers category of the pamphlet, suggestions are made to not only take advantage of bargain time rates, but what to do if there is a poor connection on local or long distance calls.

The primary saving on long distance calls is between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. any day when a person pays only 35 cents for a one minute call placed within the continental United States (excluding Alaska).

If those hours are inconvenient, the pamphlet illustrates that long distance calling without the use of an operator can result in considerable savings. The maximum rate for a three-minute call from New Jersey to the West Coast when dialed direct is $1.45, but when an operator dials the calls, the cost is $1.85.

Operator Assistance. New Jersey Bell also suggests the caller tell the operator if, after repeated attempts, a direct-dialed call does not go through. All the caller has to do is explain to the operator who will try to put the call through and see that only the direct-dialed rate is charged. The pamphlet informs customers that for a small additional monthly charge, in most areas, telephone subscribers can add certain nearby exchanges to their local calling area so they may call them, as often as desired and talk as long as they'd like, without paying toll charges.

REGULATIONS DETAILED

In Business Guide. In a move to facilitate new business openings, the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry has published "A New Businessman's Guide to Government Regulations." "The guide fills an important need for a central source of helpful information to the prospective businessman," Commission Joseph A. Hoffman said. "It will assist him in complying with many of the legal restrictions involved in starting a new business because it details the rules and regulations imposed by local municipalities and counties, as well as State and Federal laws."

Thomas A. Kelly, Director of the Division of Economic Development, said the guide was prepared by the Division's Office of Business Economics. "The booklet is divided into four major sections," he explained, "one for each level of Government. It is essential for the new businessman to check each governmental level, since some regulations, such as licensing, may appear in more than one section."

Several pages are devoted to listing the appropriate licensing or regulating office and its location for each occupation or business activity.

Copies of "A New Businessman's Guide to Government Regulations" may be had free of charge by writing to the Office of Business Economics, Division of Economic Development, P. O. Box 845, Trenton, 08625.

PEDESTRIAN IS MUGGED

By Three Men. A busboy at the Annex Restaurant, who does not speak English, was mugged Monday night as he was walking from work to his home on Spruce Street.

According to Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt, the victim, Enio Perone, 24, was walking on Spruce near Moran Avenue around 10:30 when a blue car pulled along side and the occupants asked if he had any change. Not understanding, he continued to walk on, Ptl. Lenhardt said.

Whereupon, the officer continued, three blacks, estimated to be 18 to 20 years old, emerged from the car. Two grabbed the victim on either arm while the third went behind him and struck him over the head. The latter removed the victim's wallet containing $25 from his rear pocket.

The three then got back in their car and threw the victim's empty wallet toward him as they drove away. He did not report the mugging, however, until Tuesday morning when he returned to work. Later at police headquarters with Chief Michael Carnevale and Mrs. Angelina Friel of the Violations Bureau acting as interpreters, police were able to piece together what had happened.

Ptl. Lenhardt said that police have suspects in the attack.

News Of The CHURCHES

SPECIAL SERVICE HELD

For Rev. Walter R. Coats. A special service was held Sunday for the Rev. Walter R. Coats of the First United Presbyterian Church of Pennington to celebrate his 25th year as an ordained minister and the start of his 15th year as pastor of the Pennington church.

Guest speaker at the worship service was Dr. Arlo D. Duba, Director of Admissions at Princeton Theological Seminary. Others taking part in the ceremony were: the Rev. Jack Cooper, Vice-Moderator, New Brunswick Presbytery; the Rev. James S. Weaver, Pastor, Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church; and the Rev. Donald I. Thiel, Associate Pastor of the Pennington Presbyterian Church. Special music was provided by the Adult Choir, Senior High and Brass Choir.

When the Rev. Mr. Coats, who was not informed of the event until 45 minutes before the start of the service, rose to give the Benediction, he remarked: "There's been a lot of insubordination going on around here."

Following the worship service, a reception for Mr. Coats and his wife, Margy, was held in Heritage Hall where refreshments were provided for special guests and friends by the Women's Association Members of the congregation later presented the Coats with gifts and money.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Mr. Coats graduated from Muskingum College and Princeton Theological Seminary. In 1949, he became pastor of the Roseland (N.J.) church which he served for 11 years. During that time, membership increased from 135 to 400 and a new $100,000 educational building was completed.

On May 11, 1960, the Rev. Mr. Coats was installed as the 13th pastor of the Pennington Presbyterian Church which was first organized in 1709. During his ministry in Pennington, the church has built a large addition, founded the Nursery School and made several innovations in the worship service.

In 1969, Rev. Mr. Coats was an exchange pastor in Edinburgh, Scotland. He and his wife have five children.

MISSIONARIES ON TOUR
From Westerly Church. Nine Princeton area high school and college age young people are serving in France, COLORADO HERE WE COME: Cindy Robinson (left) and Lynn Costa, both of Princeton, are now on the road in Colorado, serving as short-term missionary trainees. They and seven other young people are representing the Westerly Road Church in the project, which is also sponsoring missionary work in France, Italy and the Dominican Republic. They will return next Friday.

Italy, the Dominican Republic and Colorado as part of the Short-Term Missionary Trainee Project of the Westerly Road Church. They left Princeton June 13 for their tours, which are scheduled to conclude Friday, July 5.

Three Pennsylvania churches have also contributed volunteers to the project, which has sent teams of seven young people apiece to each of the four locations. The trainees work with career missionaries in the field.

Those from Princeton serving in Grenoble, France, include Steve Darby and Bob Freund of the University, and Frank Erdman Jr., formerly of Princeton. Donna Galletta of Princeton Junction and Ersilia Zott, a University student, are in Milano, Italy.

Serving in the Montrose, Colorado, area are Lynn Costa and Cindy Robinson, both of Princeton, and Sharon Trumble of Lawrenceville. Pete Kennedy of Kendall Park is working in Santiago, the Dominican Republic.

According to Leonard L. Norton, assistant pastor of the Westerly Road Church, the missionaries' purposes are to assist the career missionaries, to teach Bible classes, to personally share their faith in Jesus Christ, and to help when possible with physical labor such as construction or painting. Last year 19 young people from the church participated.

Any individuals or groups interested in hearing a report of this work should contact Mr. Norton, 924-3816.

You wouldn't buy carpeting without comparing quality and price per square foot.

Why not the same comparison when you buy a house?

Did you know that our cluster house costs less per square foot?

Our cluster house gives you more actual living space and more modern living conveniences than a lot of single homes. For a lot less money. Hard to believe? It's even harder when you see the basement. It's big.

Did you ever think of an entry court as an outdoor room?

That's the way we want you to think of ours. It's large enough for small dinner parties. And private enough to have fun without disturbing your neighbors.

Would you like to put together your own floor plan?

Our five floor plans make it easy to think you're getting a custom house. All our plans are different and they all have good one-floor traffic flow. You can pick a plan with two or three bedrooms. With one or two baths. And with a fireplace or without a fireplace.

Is central air conditioning a must?

We consider anything that makes your living more enjoyable a must. That includes central air conditioning. A kitchen complete with self-cleaning range and range hood, refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher and disposal. And more. Baths with shiny ceramic tile around the tub and shower, and a handsome vanette. And lots and lots of closet space.

Would you like a house in the center of everything?

Our cluster houses are within reach of everything. Lighted bicycle paths, play areas and a planned swimming pool are right outside your door. The beautiful old restored houses and shops of Mount Holly are only four blocks away. And schools and good shopping centers within walking distance.

The cluster house. It measures up and beyond.

Directions: I-295 to Exit 511 Exit or New Jersey Turnpike to Exit 5 (Mount Holly 541) 2 miles east on 41 to 4th traffic light, turn right on Lewis Drive to Regent's Park. Samples open daily 11-7. Phone 609-261-1116.

From Roast Beef to Carrot Cake, "The Inn Book" Tells You Where It's Best to Come and Get It

When it comes to food, drink and "this wonderful little restaurant we've discovered," everybody is an expert. Someone who really is an expert has now written a book about food, drink and wonderful little country restaurants.

She is a feminist named Kathleen Neuer — her by-line appeared most recently on "Dick and Jane as Victims," an exploration of sexism in school-books — and her paperback called "The Inn Book," published by The Pyne Press of Princeton, is now for sale. ($4.95, Princeton Book Mart, University Store, Princeton Gourmet, Kingston Wine and Liquor)

Miss Neuer calls her book "a field guide to old inns and good food." She covers New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania, New York, Delaware and Western Connecticut. She explores the phenomenon of carrot cake and examines the Dessert Question. Because she sometimes made more than one visit, she can tell you about restaurants that have both summer charm and winter coziness. You'll learn about delightful inns whose overnight accommodations include a Victorian bedroom and use of the bathroom down at the end of the hall.

It Started at the Stove. Kathleen Neuer (in her non-writing life, she is Mrs. Jack Bluemthal) was a "Mademoiselle" editor for ten years, and a successful free-lancer besides. As for food....

"I was one of those cooking women," she says. Her first teacher was Dione Lucas. She studied with Evelyn Patterson, former Princeton resident renowned as cook and teacher, and she cooked "on her own."

Pyne Press asked her to do "The Inn," and she spent the full cycle of a year, from Thanksgiving of 1972 to Thanksgiving of 1973, driving, questioning and eating.

"I went to twice as many inns as I wrote about in the book, and I had good recommendations even on the ones I had to leave out!"

But she would have liked to know about even more inns—"it's hard enough to find places that offer good food...."

Pyne blocked out the area for her to cover, and left the rest to her.

"I used a lot of sources — a friend in south Jersey who said 'the best place in town used to be ... but now, it's ...' or another friend who told me she'd had a good omelette in the same place twice!"

People like these were a kind of pre-screening committee. Once in a community, Miss Neuer asked the natives. She stopped at fish stores to find out which restaurants bought there. She talked with bakery owners, or stopped people on the street.

"If three people concurred, I figured the restaurant was worth visiting. Sometimes I asked people at the next table what other local restaurants they patronized."

"Order Wisely." "In the book, I've tried to give readers a kind of steering, telling them they'll eat well if they order wisely, within the range of what the restaurant does well. Because restaurants have different strengths."

Locally, Miss Neuer mentions the Peacock Inn and the Nassau Inn, and describes Lahiere's in some detail. If these premises don't sound like "country inns," remember that the New York resident who buys "The Inn" at a Fifth Avenue book store may regard Princeton as a charming little country town, just right for a Sunday drive.

If you haven't a clue about what to order, make it roast beef. Always. "I found it fairly good to excellent, and never poor, but I didn't test it much. Waiters who want tips always recommend roast beef because that's the one thing they're sure of, and every restaurant regards its beef as THE BEST."

But Miss Neuer is gloomy about roast beef.

FEMINIST: "The Inn" isn't exactly a feminist tract, but the author of this field-guide to country dining is a charter member of Princeton's NOW chapter, and writer on feminist subjects. (Did you catch her "Male Chauvinist Pig Test" for Valentine's Day last year in the New York Times Magazine?) She's Kathleen Neuer, of Random Road in Princeton.

"I'm afraid we'll be a country that doesn't offer anything except roast beef, because a restaurant knows it's safe."

Ice Cream Top Choice. The hardest things for a restaurant to do well seem to be pastries and vegetables. Miss Neuer laughs at the recollection of a convention of restaurateurs. In solemn, unanimous conclave, they agreed that the dessert tastes of Americans were changing—pies and cakes and pastries were no longer in demand. Every order seemed to be for ice-cream.

"It never occurred to them that people were turning to ice cream because it's usually reliable, and pastries are usually so bad! It's almost impossible to get a good pie, and I like pie better than cake."

Carrot cake, now, is something else. It's a Bucks County specialty — or has become so — and "It's absolutely delicious! I never had a bad one."

Vegetables in a restaurant? "Intelligent people don't eat them," and Miss Neuer shudders.

"Here again, the experts will tell you Americans don't like vegetables, and so they are being deleted from menus. Well, vegetables are sodden messes — who wants them? Never cooked to order, and taste terrible, especially those soft Belgian cooked carrots that are popular now."

Criticism is Valid. A stern critic, Miss Neuer is also a missionary. She believes in telling a restaurant owner when things aren't good, and she wishes other diners would, too.

"But you've got to talk to the owner or chef," she says. "No point in telling the waitress — she's not going to tell the chef his potatoes weren't up to standard. I always tell the owner that such-and-such a dish was excellent, but ... and then I make a specific criticism. And invariably, the owner will say, 'Nobody else ever complained,' and this is true—we all want so much to be loved, that we don't dare criticize!"

Miss Neuer says there are half a dozen inns in the book where she had "best" meals, but she wisely refrains from saying which they are.

Bridge to Close July 8
The Department of Transportation has announced that beginning July 8, the Quaker Bridge Road bridge over the Delaware-Raritan Canal in Lawrence Township will be closed to traffic for about three weeks while workmen repair the structure.
The repairs, which were to begin June 3 as indicated on the advance warning signs posted at the site, were delayed until school recesses began for the summer vacation, so as not to interfere with bus routes.
A signed detour will be established to assist motorists in by-passing the affected area.

KEAN CONCEDES RACE
To Mrs. Fenwick. Thomas Kean, who waged a close race with Mrs. Millicent Fenwick for the Republican nomination for the 5th Congressional District, has announced that after a recount of the vote in four of the five counties in the district, "I have concluded that Mrs. Fenwick is the winner of our race . . . by 76 votes."

In announcing his full support for Mrs. Fenwick, Mr. Kean issued the following statement:
"My candidacy was waged on the overriding need for the Republican Party to take the lead in restoring integrity and trust to government and on the need to make government in Washington responsive to the people once again. The fact that we came within a fraction of the vote needed to win is clear evidence that this theme hit a very responsive chord among the voters."

"I am quite confident that Mrs. Fenwick, as our party's nominee, will continue the fight for these goals. As such, I plan to give her my full support and to enthusiastically campaign for her throughout the District. Mrs. Fenwick's record and philosophy make her a far superior choice to represent us in Congress than her Democratic opponent."
"However, we must all realize that this will be a difficult campaign—the Republican Party is in trouble. Therefore, I hope that all of my supporters and voters who believe in the cause for which we have been fighting will join me in working to send Mrs. Fenwick to Congress."

For United World Colleges.
The Commission for the United World Colleges, Inc., will move to Princeton, switching its American headquarters from New York City to 82 Nassau Street on Thursday.

William H. Sword of Rosedale Road, vice-president of Morgan Stanley and Company, serves as chairman of the board. Warren P. Elmer Jr., 10 Bayard Lane, was elected president of the foundation in January.

William H. Flagg of 37 Olden Lane served as executive director from January 1972 to January 1974, when he was elected vice-president and acting treasurer. Charles L. Jaffin of Rosedale Road serves as secretary. Others who are members of the board are Frank E. Taplin, 55 Armour Road, and John J. Roberts, who for many years lived at Edgehill Street.

Created eight years ago by Malcolm Muir, founder and retired chairman of the board of "Newsweek" magazine, the commission is the American branch of this international educational program to promote international understanding among 16 to 19-year-old students from more than 45 countries around the world. Lord Louis Mountbatten is President of the International Council, which consists of representatives from more than 40 countries.

The combination of the International Baccalaureate Degree and all encompassing humanitarian service program provides a challenging program for these young international scholars. Upon graduation, most return to their countries of origin to attend leading universities and colleges.

Time on Your Hands? University Has Suggestions for Summer Days

Activities of general interest to the Princeton community are taking place this summer on the University campus. These include daily, student-conducted tours of the campus, the varied offerings of Theatre Intime, summer chamber concerts and a variety of special educational programs and conferences which will attract several hundred young people and adults during July and August.
Information about these activities, as well as the visiting hours for the Art Museum, the University Natural History Museum in Guyot Hall, Prospect Gardens, Firestone Library and special events, may be obtained at the Orange Key Guide Service Office in Stanhope Hall (452-3603), or from the main bulletin board in front of that office.

As an aid to University visitors, maps of the campus have been posted near Nassau Hall and at the Woodrow Wilson School Plaza, giving information about campus buildings and other matters. This includes information about the use of University facilities during the summer months.
As in recent summers, the University campus remains open to visitors. However, after 8:30 p.m., in the proximity of Nassau Hall and the Firestone Library, no one is permitted to sit on or congregate on the lawns during the period from mid-June until after Labor Day.

Notices have been posted at the Woodrow Wilson School Plaza, off Washington Road, to remind campus visitors that the reflecting pool is neither a wading nor a swimming pool and that University buildings near the pool are in use throughout the summer for student and faculty research, thus limiting the usage of those buildings to University-guided tours or to those on official University business. As a safety reminder, particularly for small children, the pool at the Woodrow Wilson School Plaza will be surrounded by a rope stanchion during the hot days of summer.
Those with comments or suggestions on the University's summer regulations are invited to forward them to the Office of Community and Regional Affairs at 317 Nassau Hall.

NEW SCHOOL FORMED
For 2½-5 Year Olds. The Whole Thing Nursery School, a non-profit center for early learning, is accepting applications for the 1974-75 school year. The school is located in the Education Building of the Princeton Baptist Church in Penns Neck.
The Whole Thing was initiated by Stephen Hritz, Phillip Ollio, and John Walthew, professors at Trenton State College. The School, who will attend three represent more than 60 years of combined experience in children's learning and behavior. Whole Thing, which accepts children ages 2½ - 5, aims at the early stimulation of youngsters' intellectual, motor, social and aesthetic behavior.

Dr. John Walthew, President of the School's governing board, said that the school will be staffed by professionally-trained, fully-certified teachers. Also, each child's development will be individually charted so that personalized instruction can be given, and parents can become immediately aware of the progress of their child.

John Brockhardt, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Princeton Baptist Church, has expressed enthusiasm about the concept of the Whole Thing Nursery School and the role the church is playing in the project.
Interested parents may call 609-737-1935 or write Whole Thing Nursery School, Princeton Baptist Church, Princeton Junction 08550, for additional information.

Community Day Planned

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will join with other community organizations and craftsmen on Community Day, Saturday, at the Princeton Shopping Center.

Thirty-two organizations are participating, many raising funds for civic projects, scholarships and charities. Other will be on hand to inform the public of their services.

Close to 50 craftsmen, artists and hobbyists will also join in the day's festivities and two musical groups will perform.

Community Day is sponsored by the Shopping Center Merchants Association.

planted was the White Pine (103) followed by Dogwood (33) and Flowering Crapehapple (27). Mr. Kuser pointed out that because the trees planted at the shopping center were not located on Township road frontage, public funds could not be used. In response to a request for help, the Dogwood Garden Club contributed part of the cost of 18 crapehapples and the Shopping Center paid the rest.

Those singled out by Mr. Kuser for their help in the program included John Clausen and his Township crew; Anne Delano for design ideas; Lankford Bolling for inspection; Harold Goldberg of the Shopping Center and Walter Mironchik and Carol Thomas of the Shade Tree Commission.

SENIOR SERVICES SET

In West Windsor. The Ad Hoc Steering Committee for West Windsor Senior Citizen Services has scheduled an open meeting for all residents of the Township on Tuesday at 7:30 in the Education Building of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church. Items to be discussed include a report on the return of questionnaires recently mailed by the committee to senior citizens throughout the Township in an attempt to determine what services and programs are needed and desired.

A telephone reassurance program is already underway, serving residents of the Township. Anyone wishing to be called on a daily basis, or anyone wishing to call a senior citizen daily, should contact Cindy Gordon, of 4 Hawk Drive, Princeton Junction (799-2278).

The schedule of summer activities at the West Windsor Library has been set and some will be of particular interest to senior citizens. Further information on these activities can be obtained by calling the library (799-0462).

One other item on the agenda at the open meeting will be a plan to organize a senior citizen picnic for early September. Anyone interested in helping is urged to come to the meeting on Tuesday or to contact any member of the Ad Hoc Steering Committee: Mrs. Jacques Honore, Mrs. Lucilla Tilton, Mrs. R.L. Holiday, Mrs. Paul Finkelstein, Fred Kohlhepp or Ross Wilbur, chairman.

PARKS TOURS OFFERED

By County Naturalist. The summer schedule of the Mercer County Park Commission nature tours will begin the last week in June and run through the end of August. SHAW
As Intime's Opener, "Arms and the Man," first produced over 75 years ago and still popular on the stage, will open Summer Intime's season with a July 4 performance at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre. It will continue July 5, 6 and 7 and the following weekend, July 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Bernard Shaw laid his play in Bulgaria in the 1880s during a Balkan war. He has a Swiss mercenary on the run who flees into the bedroom of an idealistic young girl who is the daughter of a Bulgarian officer and fiancée of the hero of the Bulgarian army. The fairytale atmosphere combines with Shavian wit for almost farce-like effect.

Tryouts
If you have "some singing ability," you're invited to try out for "Company," next production of the Theatre-by-the Lake at Peddie School in Hightstown.

Tryouts will be held next Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Geiger-Reeves Hall at the school (South Main and Ward Streets, in Hightstown). Rehearsals will be held weekday evenings between 7-10 p.m. in the hall, and the musical will be produced August 9, 10, and 11.

"Company" won the New York Drama Critics' "Best Musical" award in 1970, and a Tony Award the following year. Music and lyrics are by Stephen Sondheim, and the score features such songs as "Te Ladies Who Lunch," "Side by Side by Side" and "Another Hundred People."

BRUNSWICK
The Exorcist. The long-awaited area showing of The Exorcist, based on the William Blatty best-selling novel about the bizarre Satanic possession of a young girl, opens this week at the Brunswick Theater.

The graphic horrors and meticulous depiction of the little girl's possession and the exorcism sequence that frees her is definitely not for the faint-of-heart or weak-of-stomach. It can be, for some, a mind-blowing experience. Definitely not for children. The film is rated R.

Blatty's story is based on an actual 1949 case of a 14-year old boy whose bizarre changes in personality disappeared after multiple performances of the Catholic ritual of exorcism.

The film horrors begin when a 12-year-old girl—stunningly portrayed by Linda Blair—interrupts her mother's cocktail party, curses a priest and urinates on the carpet. From there, her possession intensifies. Her voice takes on the voice of a man, the language and personality of the Devil, the barks and groans of an animal.

She lashes at the young Jesuit psychiatrist-priest with green vomit and shouts blasphemous crudities. In another gruesome scene, she masturbates with a crucifix. Finally, the child is released but only after the death of the two priests.

Still, in spite of the horrors, the film contains less visceral emotional moments of great power and conviction.

Technically, "The Exorcist" is unerringly superb and the acting is faultless. Ellen Burstyn as the child's mother vainly trying to maintain her sanity under the bizarre happenings is outstanding, as is Jason Miller as the Jesuit priest and Max von Sydow as the older priest.

The Sting! Although it won the Academy Award as the best picture of 1973, "The Sting" is not a great movie—but it is superb entertainment. One leaves humming the catchy title song, which also won an academy award as the best song—the film won a total of seven—nodding approvingly over the ending and saying this is the way movies should be: fun and entertaining.

All of the components of "The Sting" are first-rate, which may explain its success. Foremost is the presence of Paul Newman and Robert Redford, blissfully reteamed as a pair of affable confidence men working their way through the Chicago underworld of the thirties. The supporting cast adds another dimension: Robert Shaw is outstanding as a New York mobster taken in by Newman's and Redford's elaborate con game, Ray Walston as a deadpan bogus race-caster, Charles Durning as a squeaky-shoed, corrupt cop and Eileen Brennan as Newman's mistress are all excellent.

The period-suited photography captures the feel of a thirties gangster flick and the musical score effectively adds to the atmosphere.

Newman is a semi-retired king of the "big con"; Redford is a young penny-ante drifter. When Redford's sidekick is rubbed out at the command of gangster Shaw after the two inadvertently pull a wallet and handkerchief routine switch on a runner carrying a mob bankroll. Redford seeks Newman out. Determined to gain vengeance on Shaw, they construct an elaborate confidence game.

The resultant "sting" in which Shaw is taken for half a million dollars is a clockwork maneuver that involves an elaborate betting operation together with sudden twists of plot and character. The mainstay of the film, it culminates with an unpredictable, rousing finale. As entertainment, "The Sting" is pure gold.

Blazing Saddles. From the opening parody of its whip-cracking theme song sung by Frankie Lane, to the final fadeout, as a chauffeured limousine rides away from the Warner backlot into the sunset, this madcap collection by Mel Brooks of every cliché and convention to tumble across the range is an all-out, successful lampoon. Oh, it is disjointed, to be sure, and it has its share of clinkers but "Blazing Saddles" is more often hilarious; its anachronistic sight gags, quick skits, and one-liners are literally outrageous at times, but so side-splitting that Brooks gets away with it.

The nominal plot centers on the efforts of a villainous "State Procurer" to make a fortune off the new railroad by driving the citizens out of their town. He persuades the corrupt governor (Mel Brooks) to hire a black sheriff (Cleavon Little) to send the bigoted folks packing. Needless to say, Little, aided by a suave, alcoholic ex-gunslinger played by Gene Wilder, manages to beat off the baddies, whose frontier army includes rapists, gum chewers, Klansmen, Arabs, storm troopers and saddle-bound Hell's Angels.

An example of the film's outrageousness, which has earned it a deserved R-rating, is a black railroad gang crooning "I Get a Kick Out of You," or a juvenile lesson on the bodily effects of frontier baked beans. Anachronisms abound, with Candygrams, highway toll booths and Count Basie's full orchestra all making bizarre, quick appearances among the sagebrush.

Harvey Korman, top banana on the Carol Burnett Show, is a standout as the

The Lords of Flatbush. Another nostalgia entry, not up to the standards of "The Last Picture Show" or "American Graffiti," revolving around a leather-jacketed but goodnatured teenage gang in 1957 Brooklyn. Though frequently funny and generally true to ear, it is never as involved as it strives to be.

There are some effective segments of lower middle class school and street life tied together with a simple story

IT'S NEW To Us

NOT JUST FOR BRIDES
The Cummins Shop. There probably is not a Princeton bride-to-be, mother of one, or wedding guest who hasn't visited The Cummins Shop to choose from its lovely china and crystal. While this is the store's mainstay, owner Gus Hult also selects seasonal items, and currently there are many pretty gifts for summer outdoor entertaining.

The clear see-through look of lucite continues its popularity. Not only is it attractive, but also perfect for outdoor use as it doesn't break. We saw napkin holders with a round lucite bar to keep them in place, $4; a three-compartmented hors d'oeuvres dish, $5; and several salad bowls.

One salad bowl is square with rounded corners and is part of a clear lucite set that includes four smaller matching bowls and a serving spoon and fork. Another seven-piece set comes in smoked lucite and the bowls have a free-form rounded shape, $12 each. However, if you already have a favorite salad set, you can make the serving easier with a one-piece lucite fork-spoon, $2.

Even the cheese boards have incorporated the clear look, by setting a wooden board in a lucite frame that includes a side dish for crackers, $12 and $15.50.

Keeping Food Hot. Outdoor eating can play havoc with the temperature of food, but there are some solutions such as the Salton hot trays which come in many sizes. Currently three of them are on sale -- a long rectangle that usually sells for $22.95 is now $14.95, and the serving cart with an extra unheated lower shelf is now $44.95 (regularly $79.95).

Another suggestion is a lucite thermal server. These can be filled with ice or hot water and will keep the food in the serving dish just the right temperature. A single server is $15 and a double one, $25.

The light and airy look is also evident among the placemats. There are loosely woven mats; plastic see-throughs with a scalloped design in white, yellow or green; a transparent mat decorated with lemons, and many more, approximately $1.75 each.

We also saw reversible quilted mats in gingham, dots, patchwork designs, solids and a bandana print, $2.25 each and there are napkins to match. Another set has an oval mat of white fabric with large brown, blue or yellow dots (all plastic covered) and coordinated napkins in the solid color with white dots.

Satisfied Turtle. Those indestructible Curoc trays remain as handsome as ever, and we especially liked the wooden cats, beautiful red cardinal, and a satisfied turtle smelling a pink flower, $9 to $20. Many of the patterns have matching glasses, $14 for 8, and ice buckets, $16.

The Cummins Shop also has tray, glass and ice bucket sets in a dishwasher-safe plastic, and the designs are varied from flowers to strawberries to tennis rackets. The glasses are $1.65 each, the trays $3 to $4, and the ice buckets, $16. Solid red, blue, yellow or clear plastic glasses are also available at $1.20 each.

A few other outdoor thoughts are the pretty tile and wrought iron tables that are perfect for holding plants, $10.95 and $27.50, the many cachepots that include plastic basket weaves, gaily painted ceramics and Ginori china designs; clear salt or pepper mills with colorful ends and a 25-year guarantee, $7.50 each; and a Salton ice cream maker that works in your freezer, $19.95.

It is impossible to visit The Cummins Shop without noticing a few indoor suggestions. Again with the lucite, it now has been used as

More Uses for Lucite. Another new use of lucite has been tried by a man named Fox. He carves deep designs into the back of a lucite block giving it a lovely three-dimensional effect. There is an owl, a Bi-centennial eagle, and three beautiful flying Canadian geese, $16 to $80.

Over the years, Mr. Hult has noticed a shift in the buying of tea cups, to large coffee cups, and now to demitasse ones. A new line of Japanese china has just arrived, ranging in price from $14 to $20 for four cups. The patterns include a green shamrock design; an elegant red, blue and gold border on a white cup; and a set with a different colored stripe or scallop edge on each cup and saucer.

line designed to accommodate as many nostalgic trappings as possible: wisecracking classroom disruption, gang rivalry, drive-in petting, jeyrides in a borrowed car and the like.

The action focuses on four buddies who become increasingly individualized as the film progresses. Best performance is that of Sylvester Stallone as a greasy-haired, hulking dullard, proficient at keeping both a cigarette and match perpetually poised on his lip but unable to wheedle out of marrying his pregnant girl friend.

Let The Good Times Roll. Still more nostalgia. This is an excellent documentary of stills and clips that captures the Rock explosion and the entire experience of the Fifties.

Forces in the rock idiom like Chuck Berry, Bo Diddley, Fats Domino and the Coasters are presented in all their polish and showmanship, their performances intercut with clips of them shot more than 15 years earlier which show their essence has been unchanged by time.

The newsreel film clips manage to capture every fad, idol, style and cultural event of the fifties and have been chosen with uncanny care and perception. The result is a brilliant chronicle of the Rock and Roll era and an outstanding concert film.

PRINCE

The Nine Lives of Fritz the Cat and Heavy Traffic—two adult animated cartoons, both rated R. Nine Lives is a successor to "Fritz the Cat" which started it all and was very popular. "Heavy Traffic" is a vulgar, raunchy series of vignettes that emphasize the casualness of sex and violence.

PEOPLE In The News

Raymond D. Hoagland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond R. Hoagland of Coppermine Road, has completed his spring semester at Virginia Wesleyan College with academic honors. He was named to the Dean's List for earning a 3.50 average or better on a 4.00 scale.

Vicki Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Austin Jr. of North Road, represents the third generation in her family to receive varsity letters from Dartmouth College. A freshman, Vicki was a member of the women's varsity squash team and tennis team, on which she played No. 1 singles and No. 1 doubles. The tennis team is coached by Chris Clark of Rocky Hill and has a 6-1 record.

Vicki has been elected captain of the tennis team for next year. Her father won a varsity letter with the Class of 1950, as did her paternal grandfather with the Class of 24.

Scott Tempel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tempel of Mountain View Road, Skillman, has been named to the Dean's List at Kalamazoo College, Michigan.

Six area residents have been awarded grants by the New Jersey Historical Commission for research, local history projects and Bicentennial teaching projects. They include:

Mary B. Ballard, 16 Fieldston Road, research on "After Suffrage: The League of Women Voters of New Jersey, 1920-1930."

Dr. Gertrude W. Dubrovsky, 244 Hawthorne Avenue, research of "Farmingdale, N.J.: Portrait of a Jewish Farm Community."

Norman Spertling, Franklin Corner Apartments, Lawrenceville, a science teacher at Princeton Day School; research on "The Fitzes, Robert Van Arsdale and an Important Early New Jersey Telescope."

Dr. Peter A. Winkel, 194 Review Avenue, Lawrenceville, associate professor at Trenton State College; research on "The German Element in New Jersey During the American Revolution."

Two Montgomery High

School graduates have been accepted for admission this fall to Marietta College, a private liberal arts college in southeastern Ohio. They are Karen D. Peper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Peper, Knickerbocker Drive, Belle Mead; and David Rensun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rensun, Bound Brook Road, Belle Mead.

They are among 45 students from the State of New Jersey accepted in Marietta's freshman class. The college, established in 1835, traditionally enrolls over half its 1,700 students from Eastern seaboard states.

Dr. Robert F. Marvin, of 10 Piedmont Drive, Grover's Mill, has been certified as a subspecialist by the Subspecialty Board on Cardiovascular Diseases of the American Board of Cardiology. A graduate of Yale University and Temple University School of Medicine, Dr. Marvin has served as Senior Registrar at Makerere University Medical School in Kampala, Uganda.

He maintains offices at 195 Nassau Street, and is a member of the associate staff of the internal medicine department of the Princeton Medical Center.

Alfred A. Federico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emidio Federico, 105 Linden Lane, was one of 109 students at the University of Tampa making the Dean's List during the 1974 spring semester. To make the Dean's List, a student must have a grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale for 17 semester hours or more of academic work. Mr. Federico, who is majoring in sociology, is a graduate of Princeton High School.

Jane Clewe, 39 Taylor Road, is one of 24 Princeton University undergraduate working in West Germany and Austria this summer under a program designed to strengthen students' insights into cultural, economic and political activities of the two German-speaking nations. For a period of ten weeks, they are employed in factories, hospitals, banks and business firms, with an additional three weeks available for independent travel. Miss Clewe, who speaks German fluently, is working for an oil company in Vienna.

Theodore I. Bleecker, 77 Randall Road, has been selected to participate in a two-week seminar and tour of Israel as the guest of Histadrut, the General Federation of Labor in that nation. He will be one of a small group of labor editors who will visit key centers in Israel and interview governmental and political leaders on the status of Israel following the "Yom Kippur war" and the disengagement. Mr. Bleecker is editor-in-chief of the "New York Teacher," the weekly newspaper of the New York State United Teachers and of the United Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, as well as director of publications for the 267,000-member organization, which is also affiliated with the National Education Association.

Mrs. Jo Coke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornforth, 71 Westcott Road, has been named the first saleswoman in the Chemical Division of Gifford-Hill & Co., Dallas, Texas. Formerly an executive secretary in the firm's corporate office, Mrs. Coke joined Gifford-Hill in 1967. I
BET
KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Only one man in sports history has ever reached the top in both big-time tennis and bit-time golf. Can you guess who he is? Answer is Ellsworth Vines. Vines won the Men's Singles tennis championship of the U.S. in 1931. Then he turned to pro golf and once got as far as the semi-finals of the PGA championship.

What are the most errors a major league baseball player ever made in one inning? The answer is four, and the last man to make four errors in one inning in the big leagues was shortstop Len Merullo of the Cubs, in September of 1942.

Here's a surprising baseball fact. Of all the men who have ever pitched big league baseball for 10 years or more, which one wound up with the best won-lost percentage? It's not one of the old-timers as you might expect, but it's Whitey Ford who won 236 games and lost 106 for a percentage of .690, and that's tops in all of big league history for a career pitching percentage.

I bet you didn't know that we have an insurance policy that would have helped Lou Gehrig. We have all sorts of insurance for people who think they can't buy insurance because of their health.

TEAMMATES NO MORE: LouJohn Rossi (left) and Floyd Phox were teammates on the PAC team in the Adult Softball League last year. This season, PAC did not field a team and LouJohn, a former Princeton High School player, is a pitcher for the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, while Floyd is player-coach of his own team in the league—Phox's Few.

TWO STILL UNBEATEN

In Adult Softball, Ivy Inn and the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club remain undefeated in the Princeton Recreation Adult Softball League.

Last year's league champions, Ivy Inn, pulled off two tight games to keep its perfect record intact. They defeated Grover's Taxi, 2-1, and Andy's Tavern, 6-5. The Ivy managed only six hits against Grover's; however, one was a two-run homer by Bob Klek which gave it the victory.

It was George McVaugh's third hit of the night that produced the winning run for the Barmen. In their win over Andy's, Klek again added a homer to the Ivy attack. For Andy's, round-trippers were produced by Bob Pazdan and Jack Welterling.

The Sportsmen defeated Conte-Staats, 8-7, in a dogfight to the last inning. The Italians got off to a 5-0 lead, but Conte-Staats came up with a five-run fifth to tie it. The Sportsmen then scored three runs, and took an 8-5 lead into the last inning of play, but Conte-Staats refused to quit. They pushed across two runs, but the rally fell short with two men on base.

The winners had the hot bats again as they totaled 18 hits, three each by John Pesce, Jim Reese and Hugo Rossi. Charlie Warshefski had three hits for the losers.

The Italians disposed of Tiger Auto, 10-2, in their other game behind the pitching of Charlie Perpetua. Lu John Rossi homered for the winners.

Center Sports turned in an impressive week as it set back Sports 'N Things, 11-5, and Tiger Auto, 12-0. Greg Kline, Ren Scott and Dave Sweeney each had three hits against Sports 'N Things. For the losers, Pete Miller had a three-hit performance.

Joe Moffo's six-hitter and Jack Petrone's three hits lead the romp over Tiger Auto. Center Sports sent 12 men to bat in the third inning to score seven times.

Teague & Hinds also had a fine week with victories over Andy's Tavern, 13-8, and Sannino's, 10-8. In the game against Andy's, a total of 36 hits were produced by both clubs. The slugfest saw George Tucker collect three hits for the Icemen, while Kerry Klink turned in a four-hit night for the losers.

Teague & Hinds held on to capture the win over Sannino's in a close ballgame. Tucker again rapped out three hits, one a home run.

In other league action, Sports 'N Things held off a last inning threat to defeat Phox's 7-6. Bob Wylie homered for the victors.

Grover's Taxi romped over P.M.C., 18-0. Chris Hagadorn pitched his second shutout of the season, a nine-hitter. Willie Rosso collected three safeties for the winners.

Conte-Staats came back from its initial loss to beat Phox's, 18-3. Rob Staats (four for four), Doug Ruhlman (three for three), and a homer by Scott Anderson led the attack. Sannino's captured its first win as it trounced P.M.C., 18-2. For the winners, Mike Desmond had four hits and Bill McQuade hit two homers.

TRIPLE TIE EXISTS

In Business Softball, Last week was the week of the upset for the Business Softball League, as both undefeated teams succumbed in close games to tighten up the race for the championship. Educational Testing Service, previously 7-0 in the won-lost column, was downed by a surprisingly strong Firmenich team, 10-7.

Tom Hummer had a 3-4 night for Firmenich with a home run, and Tim Kosto was 2-3. Winning pitcher Bob Elkins performed well both on the mound and at the plate, where he hit 2-4. Jerry Murphy for ETS hit 4-4.

McGraw Hill summoned all of its powers, added a strong defense, and came out on the winning end of a 10-9 contest with previously-undefeated Cities Service Research. The game was not decided until the very end, when McGraw Hill loaded the bases on walks and John Johnson brought in the winning runs with a clean single.

Team-mate Bill Sweeney was a perfect 3-3, and Barry Bromell hit 2-3. Ang Vasti was the winning pitcher.

National Computer Analysts entered the winning column for the first time this season as it upset Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs, 8-4. The game featured back-to-back home runs by Frank DiGuseppe and George Willever, and strong pitching Swelling ankles? The condition is often caused by something as simple as ill-fitting shoes, or too tight shoelacing. Sitting too long in one position, overlong walks, pounding hard pavements, hot weather, or lack of exercise of feet and legs. Vigorously shake your ankles once in a while to keep them limber. If you are sitting longer than two hours, take a break, stand up, open a window, go for a short walk. If they're a real problem, a fifteen minute rest with ankles elevated will often help.

Princeton Day School continued its winning ways by routing Ingersoll Rand, 20-0. While PDS's defense proved perfect behind the pitching of Alan Taback, the 4-5 hitting of Tom DeVito, plus Rob Hoffman's two homers and one by John Boneparth made the win easy.

Bankers Win. The First National Bank got back on the winning track by defeating North American Phillips Lighting, 7-5. Wes Cawley, with a homer and a 2-3 hitting night, had three RBI's, and Jeff Maiden contributed two RBI's, also hitting 2-3. Winning pitcher Malcom Rogers kept NAPLC out of reach for First National, although Norelco's Tom Wilson had a perfect 3-3 night and scored three runs.

A grand slam by Ron Suppin in the first inning led United Jersey Banks to an 11-6 victory over American Cyanamid. Harry Gooding contributed another homer for UJB to cap the win for pitcher Jeff Morris.

RCA(A) put together a strong hitting effort to sink Forrestal Research Center, 12-2. Ed Gudusky was 3-4 with a homer, and Dave Mansue had a 3-5 night.

Max Hopkins was the winning pitcher, and hit 2-2. Tom Wunderlich had a home run for Forrestal.

Homers by Bob Heinz, Dom Persichelli and Colin Peterson contributed to ERC's 14-4 rout of RCA(B). Greg Hughes had a 3-3 night, with the victory credited to pitcher Bob Oehrle.

Tigers 15-2-1 Against Yale

Princeton's success against Yale this past year was greater than at any time within the longest memories, but to the die-hard football fan in these parts, it's of little solace. Orange and Black teams dominated the Blue in 15 meetings between the two colleges, tied once and lost only twice—but one of the defeats was the seventh in a row to the Elis on the gridiron.

Penn was the Ivy League opponent with the greatest success against Princeton, the Tigers winning only 5 and losing 13 to the Quakers. They also were below .500 against Harvard (6-9-1) and broke even with Brown (5-5).

In addition to Yale, Princeton was on the plus side against Columbia, 11-3; Dartmouth, 9-2; and Cornell, 8-5-1. The Tigers' overall percentage in Ivy competition was .584, based on 59 victories, 39 defeats and three ties.

TIGER TEAMS AT .590

Improve Over Previous Year. Princeton University's 18 varsity sports teams produced an overall .590 winning percentage during the 1973-74 sports season, while the women varsity athletes showed an outstanding .762 mark.

The men posted a mark of 145 wins, 100 losses and five ties this past year, while the women were 49-15-1. For 1972-1973, the men's teams were 138-103-2 for a .572 percentage and the women 43-10 for an .811 rating.

Highlights of the men's season included undefeated records in tennis (13-0) and golf (14-0); the ECAC Tennis championship, a second consecutive Eastern Swimming and Diving championship, a tie for the National Collegiate Squash championship, a tie for the National Collegiate Squash championship, cross country and indoor track and the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association Championship.

The women won the Eastern Intercollegiate and Ivy League Tennis Championships, the National Squash title, the Eastern Swimming championship, the pairs without coxswain crown at the Middle Atlantic championships, the National Collegiate Sailing title and had perfect records in varsity squash (9-0) and tennis (6-0).

Ten of the 18 men's varsity teams finished above the .500 mark, and one at .500, while all seven women's teams were over the break-even standard.

On the junior varsity-freshman level, the men were involved in 167 contests, winning 91, losing 72 and tying four for a .557 percentage. There were undefeated seasons in varsity "B" squash (6-0) and tennis (11-0). Ten of the 19 teams were above .500 and one right on the break-even mark.

In eight freshman sports, Princeton was 49-38-4 for a .561 winning percentage.

NEW COACH SOUGHT

For Princeton Baseball With the retirement of head baseball coach Eddie Donovan just one year away, Princeton University Athletic Director Royce N. Flippin, Jr. has announced the formation of a search committee to help select his successor. It will be headed by Associate Director of Athletics Samuel Howell, Associate Director Walter "Pep" McCarthy, Director of Athletic Relations William Stryker, Stanley Adelson from the University's Personnel office, Coach Donovan, captain-elect Scott McHenry and Sports Information Director Phil Langan.

The Committee will screen applicants throughout the summer and hopes to reach a decision on the successor by late August. The new coach will join the staff in February of 1975, and work as the freshman coach and the assistant varsity coach under Donovan for the '75 season to

In Babe Ruth Action With Township Mayor Jay Bleiman and Borough Mayor Robert Cawley on hand to throw out the first balls, the Princeton Babe Ruth League opened its new season last week. Thorne Pharmacy wasted no time trying to establish a new order in the league, upsetting defending champion Tiger Garage, 5-3, in the opening game.

In other games Princeton Bank & Trust defeated PBA, 6-5. Thorne beat PB & T, 11-6, and Tiger Garage rebounded against PBA, 5-3.

John Bocciafuso held Tiger Garage to three hits, and sparked the Thorne offense with a 4-for-4 day at the plate with two RBIs and two runs scored. Dave Robinson singled and doubled for the Garage.

Thorne's defeat of PB & T was paced by Jim LaPlaca, who pitched a complete game, and shortstop Dave Shillaber, who had two hits and two runs batted in.

Tiger Garage bounced back from its opening defeat, and edged PBA despite nine strikeouts registered by Dana Nini, who allowed only two basehits. The big play for Tiger was a bases-loaded triple play in the fifth inning. Tony Opperman pitched five innings of one-hit ball but needed relief help from John Miller and Robinson.

Nini Steals Four. Scott Thompson smashed a triple and a double for Tiger Garage. Mark Donaldson tripled and Tom Ferguson doubled for the luckless PBA.

PBA had lost its first game of the season despite strong pitching from Tom Hagadorn and 3-for-3 batting and four stolen bases by Nini. PB & T beat the PBA in the eighth inning when Keith Wadsworth knocked in the game-winning run with a single. Carl Nazaro pitched seven innings for Princeton Bank and was relieved in the eighth by John Silverman, who was credited with the win.

IN UPSET ROLE AGAIN

Post 76 Stuns Hopewell. Princeton Post 76, which seems to be specializing in upsets this season, played its role as giant-killer again last week when it surprised division-leading Hopewell Post 339, 8-2, in action Saturday in the Mercer County Legion League.

FINALISTS: Mrs. Nummie Warga (right) and Mrs. Josie Hall, whom she defeated to win the Springdale Women's Golf Championship. Story, this page.

John Mooney went the distance for Post 76, striking out 11 and walking one to record his third victory against one defeat. Mooney also contributed two hits in a solid, all-round performance.

Princeton locked it up in the fourth with four runs. Three came when newly-acquired John Evans tripled with the bases loaded and Evans himself later scored when Hopewell losing pitcher Bill Koch uncorked a wild pitch. Evans, Bob Zinsmeister and Mooney accounted for six of their team's nine hits.

Gates Tops Sweeney in Springdale Golf, Faces Mudge in 36-Hole Final Saturday

Mosey Gates, the defending titlist, will play Jack Mudge Saturday in a 36-hole final for the 1974 championship of Springdale Golf Club. Finals in Flights One through Four will also take place the same day in 18-hole matches, following Sunday rainouts last weekend.

Gates very nearly lost his bid to become the first player in club history to win three straight titles when he had a difficult time holding off Jack Sweeney on the second nine of their 18-hole match Saturday. Gates began the morning in strong fashion, and reached the turn three up. He then won the 10th to confront Sweeney with the need to win four of the last eight holes to stave off elimination.

Sweeney actually took four of the next six holes, starting with a birdie 3 on the 408-yard 12th, and completed a round of 35—one under par—to force the match into extra holes. After both players parred the 19th in 4, Sweeney ran into trouble on the 178-yard 20th hole and Gates closed out the match with a 3.

His opponent Saturday also went beyond the regulation 18 holes to reach the finals. Mudge and Alan Frank Jr.

were all even after both had shot 75s, but Frank hooked his drive on the 19th and overshot the green. Mudge was down the middle, on in 2 and holed the putt for a bird.

Woody Wirsig rallied in his match in the semi-finals of the First Flight to take the last three holes from Roland Smith. Both players had trouble on the 19th, Smith winning with a bogey 5.

Smith's opponent Saturday will be Don Drescher. The latter won from Frank Crecca in their semi-final match.

In the Second Flight, Dick Liebler triumphed, 2 and 1, over Jack Petrone, and will play Arne Booth, a 3-and-2 victor over Charlie Foster. The third flight will find Bob McCarthy matched against Peter Budd. McCarthy was a 3-and-1 winner over Fred Gallagher, while Budd eliminated Harold Crane, 2 and 1.

Kline Fulmer will play Jim Schwartz in the final round of Flight Four. Fulmer advanced with a default victory over Ted Tams after Schwartz had reached the finals by defeating John Miller on the 20th green.

Mooney was touched for eight hits, three each by Hopewell's outstanding catcher, Tom Olszak, who is batting over .400, and left fielder Joe Basco. Basco drove in both Hopewell runs with a pair of triples.

TWO TEAMS TIED
For PYBA Lead. After four games, Post 76 and Engine No. 1 are tied for the lead in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association League with 4-0 records.

Engine No. 1 battered the Elks, 17-2, and Roma Eterna, 24-6. Against the Elks, Tim Hunt struck out eight and received hitting support from Paul Heinzl, who batted 4-for-4 including a homer, and Randy Rose. The latter stroked a home run, triple and double in three appearances at the plate.

Rose then pitched and batted his team to its easy win over Roma. He struck out ten and banded out four hits in a fine performance. Mark Adams homered for the lesers.

Home runs by Tony Pitman, who had two, and Doug Ferguson and Mike Lion powered Post 76 past Engine No. 3, 15-1. Chip Kleiber got the win. Pitman and Ian Broadwater each had three hits and Doug Ferguson fanned 11 in Post 76's second win, an easy 16-5 victory over UAW Post 380. James Noble and Chris Hunninghake had two hits each for the lesers.

The Elks defeated previously unbeaten Italian-American, 11-6, as Jeff Bergman had two triples and Luke Petrocelli batted 3-for-3. Chris Wallace was the winning pitcher.

Previously, the Italian-Americans had defeated Roma Eterna, 9-2, behind the pitching of Norm Lewis. Bill Perna homered for the victors, while Mark Adams had a single, double and triple for Roma.

Three hits by Glenn Clarke, an Aaron Gross home run and the nine-hit pitching of Paul Kenney combined for a 13-10 two-run homer in the slugfest. Hunninghake tripled and Noble added two more hits.

WIN STREAK SNAPPED
West Windsor Loses. After six straight wins in Mercer County Senior Babe Ruth League competition, West Windsor was finally untracked last week by JAM Industries, 9-3. JAM scored all its runs in the third inning, as it sent 13 batters to the plate and had 10 of them hit successfully.

West Windsor also defeated Pitman Moore, 7-3, and Bray, a Pennsbury, Pa., team, 1-0 in an exhibition.

Shan Fenski pitched all seven innings against JAM, but received no offensive support to offset the third inning until late in the game. Mike Hutchinson beat out a pair of infield hits and singled to left field for West Windsor, and Mark Dalton added a pair of singles to account for the losers' three runs.

Against Pitman Moore, West Windsor took the lead in the third inning on a single by Kevin Mason. Tom Murphy scored in the fifth inning after a triple to left-center field. West Windsor converted a bases-loaded double play in the sixth inning and then added three insurance runs in its half of the inning, as singles by Rick Malacrea, Fred Wilson and a sacrifice fly by Don Hutchinson produced the RBIs.

Malacrea gave up three hits and struck out eight against Bray. The winning run was scored in the bottom of the seventh. Dave Kodner singled and was replaced by Wilson, the Princeton High sprinter. He stole second easily, stole third and then headed for home without stopping when the Bray catcher allowed the pitch to get past him.
